

K-LOVE is virtually the only station I listen to - it gives me updates on news and encourages me with positive words and music. Without this station I believe we would lose the influence this station gives to people who are discouraged and need help but also for those of us who need a lift during our day. Much of our media fills us with discouragement and this station speaks hope and love to the listener.